ERG Support for ACLCA Standards Development

ERG is collaborating with the American Center for Life Cycle Assessment (ACLCA) to develop a suite of high-quality standards through a rigorous, multi-stakeholder process. We have created draft documents on behalf of ACLCA, including standards for general program instructions and product category rules (PCRs), with additional efforts to come.

We encourage all stakeholders—program operators, trade associations, manufacturers, academia, government agencies, and the broader LCA community—to help shape this important update. If you're interested in contributing to Version 2.0 of ACLCA's Open Standard, please complete ACLCA's interest form.

Program Update Webinar on November 13

Wondering what else we've been up to? Join our webinar on November 13, 2025, at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time (ET) to learn more about our progress developing the EPD Quality Label Program over the last few months. We will share our program goals, the underlying standards we are using, our draft program requirements and upcoming opportunities to provide feedback on them, and the anticipated implementation timeline. Attendees will be able to ask questions and provide feedback on all aspects of the program during the webinar.

To avoid conflicts with other embodied carbon industry events, we rescheduled this webinar—originally planned for October 30, 2025—to November 13, 2025, at 3 p.m. ET. If you already registered for the October 30 date, you should have received a notification email with a join link for the November 13 date. Please contact EPDQuality@erg.com with any questions about your registration.
